

From The Editor

---

From The Editors

Dear Readers, and colleagues,

This issue represents our 10th Anniversary. In last 10 years, together with authors, reviewers and readers we have managed to bring out 20 issues with aim to contribute to innovation and entrepreneurship literature and professionals. We believe the JEIM family will grow more in coming 10 years.

In every issue, we do receive more and more submission from researchers in different fields. In all submissions, we find interesting approaches to innovation and entrepreneurship. We are grateful for those who supporting us by sending their research results and give their valuable time to review the papers. Without their support, it would not be possible to bring the Journal to this level.

In this last issue of 2022, we have different well-addressed five research papers from different topics of emotional intelligence and creativity, innovation performance of countries, performance of knowledge economy, innovation performance and Industry 4.0.

We hope this issue will also provide useful information both researchers, professionals as well as it will also provide useful information for policy makers.

Finally, I like to remind you that you can access all our past and current issues with no charge. I strongly recommend you to read our publications and I believe this will be helpful for your current research and professional business. By using this opportunity, on behalf of the Editorial Board, I wish you a Happy New Year.

Best Regards

Cevahir UZKURT

Editor in Chief